Abstract

The Aryan race is the heavenly race. In the text, we start off by giving an insight into Aryan/Vedic culture today, as it is envisioned by the Aryan elite, mainly residing in Denmark, the rest of Scandinavia and Germany. We find inspiration in the concept of the unveiling of the truth of being by Heidegger, wherefore we define ourselves as existentialists, while we criticize Sartre and the notion of atheism and universal humanism, for we believe in an ontological regime of good and evil.

Next, we describe the modern day symposium, where we spend a good deal of time, for eros, love, is the highest concept of the Aryans and the cause of creation – the truth of the heart.

Then we contemplate, what is true illumination, and confront Christianity for being founded on false premises, as Christians believe that the God-man was a Jew from Palestine. Instead we criticize the Jewish/Masonic conspiracy to conquer Europe and the world.

Then we define the true sovereign and lift the veil for the hidden mechanism of the world politics of all good people, who live their lives by the heavenly call of the heart.

At last, we describe the Aryan lifestyle, which is poetic, communitarian, spiritual, philosophical and ascetic, and define the Aryans as the true rulers of the world in a coming golden age for all the good of mankind. The paper is a plea for the good mankind to support the Aryan cause, the great cause of world history, and to establish an Aryan spiritual aristocracy to rule the Aryan homelands. We wish all good people the best and thank you for supporting the great cause.

Author's preface and ethical clarification

This essay presents a vision of the spiritual, philosophical, and poetic life of the Aryan Order, as inspired by the metaphysical traditions of the Vedas, the Edda, and classical European philosophy. The concepts of sovereignty, struggle, and transcendental mission discussed herein are to be understood within a spiritual and metaphysical framework, and not as endorsements of political violence, racial superiority, or earthly domination. Our path is one of truth, love, faith, and epistemic struggle — a battle of hearts and minds, not of force. All good and noble people, regardless of origin, are called to this higher spiritual cause.

Aryan/Vedic culture today

The Aryans rule the aether, for the aether is transcendental and the Aryan race is the heavenly race. The aether is the reality of heavens, the transcendental realm, a spiritual realm. It is a realm of spirit, philosophy and love. The transcendental plane is of the ever, whereas life on earth is of the temporal. But the truth is that all good people are related to the transcendental, for the world-spirit of earth, the Holy Spirit, is transcendental. Therefore, for the Aryans and all good people, life is mystical. There is a call of heavens and this is the Holy Spirit, which we apprehend by transcendental intuition, for it is a call of the heart. The transcendental aether is true life of the Aryan race, in temporality a fifth dimension, next to 4-dimensional time-space, whereas hallucinations and nightmares are of the occult evil – base and one-dimensional hatred. This is true, for evil has no spirit – evil is ontological foreign to heavens and the Holy Spirit. Evil is the negative, whereas heaven and good people are positive. Temporality we conceive as 'maya', a Sanskrit concept that means 'appearance' or 'illusion'. Given that heaven is true life and temporality, physicality, is an illusion, all life of good people should be considered a phenomenology of spirit, a concept popularized by Hegel (1807). But it is not only a question of truth and epistemology – it is a question of true life. Absolute spirit is heaven – the perfect life of the Aryan race, to which all good people are related. Because life is spiritual and we are true to the call of life, we are existentialists, inspired by Heidegger's notions of the unveiling of the truth of being and authenticity (Heidegger, 1927), which Hegel also claimed to be true for phenomenology, but we don't agree with some existentialists, fx. Sartre (1946), that man defines himself, that the definition of man is contingent and relative to choice. Furthermore, we don't believe in universal humanism, for we believe in an ontological regime of good and evil and evil people are inhumane, so humanism is not universal. Heaven, the Aryan race and all good people are absolutely good and ruled by the law of the heart, for the highest principle in life and the fundamental principle of creation, heaven, is the divine love of the Aryan race-father and -mother, co-creators. There is a fabric to creation – there is a metaphysical law of life and this is the law of the heart, so we despise atheism, materialism and nihilism. Evil people have no life. There is an essence, so we don't agree with some existentialists that existence precedes essence (see the aforementioned book by Sartre, who described himself as an atheist existentialist). We agree that temporal life is an existential battle between the forces of good and evil and that the truth will set us free – the truth of being. Given these propositions, it is only natural that the Aryans spend a good deal of time on warfare epistemics, for “magna est veritas et praevalerebit” (the truth is great and will prevail). Truth is victory, for evil is falsehood and deception, so we consider epistemology a warfare. This warfare we call the way, for the ultimate goal of epistemology is spiritual liberation and redemption from evil. This is the cosmic war, which at times leads to conventional war that is so rife in Kali Yuga. With that said, we consider ourselves philosopher-lover-sovereigns, for truth is essential, divine love is the highest principle of creation and the true sovereigns reign the fields of the ever. We are free, for we are of the ever, pure being, but existential life is the unfolding of this truth of being. There is a purpose to life and this is “the great cause” – the Aryan cause. To consider the title of this section of the paper, we define Aryan culture as truly Vedic culture, for it is in the Vedic tradition, we learn of the the spiritual realm, meditation, yoga, Kundalini, tantra and the chakras. This is truly the Aryan life and culture and what the Aryan elite practices today. We combine this Vedic tradition with a new invention of the present Aryan elite, namely what we call “the Væi”. The Væi conceptualizes the transcendental, ethereal life of the Aryan race – the heavenly life (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024a). It is a realm of vibes, flow, atmosphere, stimmung, aesthetics, transcendental intuition and the call and truth of the heart – it is a spiritual realm. Of course, we also value the Edda, the Viking mythology, but this tradition came later and we find that the Vedic tradition is where we learn the most of our culture and life – this is the foundation. But the Vedas and the Edda are connected, which is a research topic, we currently investigate, for they are both aspects of the Aryan tradition.

Symposium – Agape and eros

Besides warfare epistemics, the Aryans spend time at the symposium. As in Plato's dialogue of the same name (ca. 385 – 370 bc.), our most valued topic for debate is love (agape/eros), the divine love of the Aryan race. We call it the dialectics of the heart. The dialectics, we operate with, are signified by respect, appreciation, honor, pride and thanksgiving, but they also lead to spiritual enlightenment and liberation, for it is not only love, but the absolute truth, we debate – the truth of the heavenly heart. In temporality, the dialectics lead to transcendence – aufheben. We have furthermore invented the concept the radicality of love, for love is the cause of creation and thereby an enigma and it is by probing the heart (divine love) and gaining an insight into the other that we understand, who we are ourselves, the respective genders. Respect and appreciation, we call the law of the heart, for this law is the reality of the transcendental Holy Spirit, which guides all good people.

Divine love is immortal, for this is the truth of heaven. The Aryans incarnate from heaven to earth, whereas the rest of the good mankind incarnate from the soul to the body, and reproduce on earth, but they are not reincarnations, as are the Aryans. Still they live forever in the Holy Spirit, but heaven is Aryan.

To understand the enigma of creation and the Aryan heaven, we have to understand immortal will, for immortal will is absolutely good in that pure being is creativity and divine love is the creative principle. This is the law of creation. Evil is in opposition to the law of creation and is therefore without soul or spirit – they are near death. Evil exists only in temporality.

Given the previous assertion, what we debate, next to love, truth and will, is righteousness, for righteousness is the way of the heart. Existence on earth should be understood as an ontological regime of good versus evil – it is a cosmic war in temporality. The call of the heart, therefore, is righteousness. When we consider righteousness, we therefore debate geopolitics and epistemic warfare – how absolute truth can rule the world. Our allies in this endeavor are all ontological good people, but our opponents are the great deniers and the great deceivers. It is therefore a spiritual, occult war of truth and righteousness. For this reason, we have established the Aryan Academy, to further the cause of the Aryan gathering and the construction of a new world order, what we call 'a white world order' of the heart, of the day, named after the purity of our hearts and the holy and blessed day (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024b, for more on the implementation of an Aryan spiritual aristocracy). We have also established a main academic education, which entails a bachelor in Aryan doctrine and theory, a masters degree in phenomenology, hermeneutics and existentialism and a PhD in White Order strategy. This will ensure that we educate our race properly, to resist the old Neo-liberal/Marxist world order, and develop a new spiritual aristocracy of Aryan theologians, philosophers and metapoliticians, for it is a battle of hearts and minds – a battle of ideas – it is a question of ideology.

We also spend time on developing the existentielle, a term used by Heidegger to explain the call of life. In another paper, we have put forth our consideration on the existentielle of the Aryan race, which should be appropriated by all good people (Riis-Søndergaard, 2024c). We operate with five concepts, we will refer to here: 1) the devotee, 2) war of the heart, 3) immortal tear, 4) the way and 5) the existentiality of war. These five concepts bring clarity to the concept of the philosopher-lover-sovereign.

At the symposium, we also sing songs. They are songs of love, appreciation, truth, righteousness, warfare and determination. Singing our songs gives tempo and momentum to our transcendental movement and in the fight against speculative, occult evil.

To conclude this section of the paper, we wish to emphasize, how much we value and appreciate our symposium, for we believe in dialogue and dialectics among lovers and friends for the furthering of truth and righteousness, the Socratic method. In this way, we gain insight into the truth of the heart and the laws of creation and this is wisdom.

Illumination of philosophy and politics

The Aryan elite has, among other studies, studied the history of ideas and social, political science. But this is a strictly Western paradigm, beginning with the pre-Socratic philosophers of Greece. To understand, who we are as Aryans, and therefore to understand the truth of creation, we need to expand our conception of philosophy, to include the Eastern schools, especially Aryan/Vedic Hinduism and Buddhism. For theology, it is even worse, for here in the West we are taught an almost completely Semite religion. The Semites are a completely foreign people to the Aryans, so it is a huge paradox that we have assimilated a Hebrew religion in Europe. As we have mentioned, Christianity believes that the God-man was a Jew from Palestine. Furthermore, they believe that there is only one creator, whereas, as we have mentioned, there are in fact two, the Aryan race-father and -mother, which is also why the heavenly race is the Aryan race and not the Jews. It is a massive deception on the part of ancient Rome and the Jews to claim otherwise. Given this reality, it is no wonder that we have seen the rise of atheism and materialism in the West, when the religious understanding has been so distorted. This conspiracy we want to end and instead we will establish a new Aryan religion in the West and worldwide, for we speak the truth and only the Aryans know the truth, for “only that which belongs can be known (Plotinus, 270)” and the truth is the truth of the heavenly heart.

The situation gets even more tricky, when you study the infamous manuscript called: The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion (Marsden, 1977), first published in 1905. The document was given to a Russian priest by an infiltrator of a Masonic lodge and purports to be the master-plan for a Jewish-Masonic conspiracy to undermine Western values, culture, politics, religion and the traditional aristocracy by deception and distortion of truth and the introduction of atheism, materialism, nihilism, internal discord and economic despotism. The document is the worst kind of hatred imaginable, but the strategy put forth in the document for Jewish-Masonic world conquest seems to fit the description of the political and economic world order, we live in today.

Freemasonry is a false religion, though many important figures in economy, industry and politics are of a Masonic lodge. Freemasonry was responsible for the French and the American revolutions and are against true religion, monarchy and tradition. They worship human intelligence, rather than the truth of the heavenly heart. So is the case for another infamous conspiratorial entity, namely the Illuminati.

On behalf of the Aryan race and all good people of the world, the Aryan elite wishes to redeem the crisis of political, economic management and world order. This is why we write our introductory papers, to bring spiritual enlightenment and liberation to the world – true illumination of the hearts and minds of men, eliminating all falsehood and deception.

We are proponents of establishing an Aryan spiritual aristocracy in all countries, where our people reside (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024b). Even though we are honored by the regard of German Nazism for the Aryan race, we don't believe that the world should be conquered by force, but rather by faith and epistemics. This is why we write our papers on topics related to a new Aryan religion, philosophy and political culture. We have faith that most of the world's population are good people. In sharp contrast, the aforementioned protocols argue that most people are driven by self-interest and egoism and only adhere to violence and force. We don't believe so – we have faith in the hearts and minds of all good people, as they are naturally inclined to take heed of the call of the heart. Believing that people are driven by self-interest, the economic man, is a classical notion of liberalism (Smith, 1776), which rules most of the world today. But again, this is evidence that for too long, the truth has been shrouded in mystery and people have been deceived by malevolent forces, wishing to rule over them by economic deception and a false epistemic paradigm. This is what we witness in the Jewish-Masonic liberal, capitalist world order, we wish to oppose. Marxism is not the solution, for Marxism is just as atheist and materialist as liberal capitalism. Our political-economic model is therefore the aforementioned Aryan spiritual aristocracy combined with a National-Socialist economy, but actually we believe in an aufheben-economy that centers on spiritual value, rather than economic value.

The true sovereign

The true sovereign is the Aryan man and woman. We are holy blood, for we are incarnations of heaven. The Aryans are not that many – we estimate between 10.000 and 100.000. It is a topic, we still research. The Aryan race is distinct, though spiritual related to the Nordic and Germanic people. As incarnations, we reincarnate, until we reach the latter days and ultimately aufheben – the religious upheaval of all good people by the truth of the heavenly heart (Riis-Søndergaard, 2022). Therefore, we plan to gather all Aryans in an Aryan Nation, a city-state that shall be located in the North of Denmark, where we will sing our songs and practice collective Kundalini-meditation. This is our ultimate goal. But the Aryan race is the true hidden hand that rules all world politics of good people, for the Aryan cause is the great cause of world history. We rule world politics of good people by transcendental deduction – the call of the heart and the Holy Spirit – immortal will and determination. Therefore, it is adamant that good people listen carefully to the absolute truth of the heavenly call. Heidegger said in Was Heisst Denken? (1952): “To think is to listen” to what being has to say. What is important is for good people to have faith and be vigilant in the epistemics of truth. We wish that all good people will start to meditate and ponder the truth of creation and existence. Meditation is a powerful tool for enhancing one's critical thinking, for it is an occult, epistemic war, we are fighting (see Riis-Søndergaard, 2024d).

The true sovereign is a poet of the heart. Poiesis means 'creative force' in Greek, and in Aryan theology. we rank poetics very high, for this is the life of the heart. Creation is a poetics of immortal will, absolute truth and divine love – the dialectics of the heart. The Vedas are our tale of the triumph of love, the victory of good over evil and the reaching of aufheben, the latter days – it is a heavenly tale. The true politics of the heart is a metapolitics that takes into consideration the Veda-vision, the true constitution, which is an Aryan spiritual aristocracy, the ontological regime of good and evil, and the metaphysical war between those exact forces of good and evil. The true sovereign is the one who decides (the state of exception) (Schmitt, 1932). He is capable of defending and protecting good people of the nation from internal and external enemies. The present Neo-liberal/Marxist/Jewish/Masonic world order lacks those defining qualities and this is true for democracy in general, for democracy and universal humanism allow opposition and thereby open the borders to enemies of the state and allow enemies to participate in the political life and to vote. The danger of democracy is that it eventually renders the state an annex to antagonistic foreign influence and internal opposition, disrespecting absolute truth and the Holy Spirit. What we need is a metapolitics, enhanced by a poetics of the call of life and the truth of the heart. This is accomplished by implementing an Aryan spiritual aristocracy to rule our homelands. Metapolitics is a right-wing ideology, for only the right-wing politics acknowledge the Holy Spirit and the ontological regime. Metapolitics is founded in metaphysics and heavenly poetics, the truth of the heart, and this is the truth of existence. This is the Aryan cause – the great cause. The Aryan elite lives an ascetic life. We are all vegans/vegetarians for ethical reasons and would propose for all good people to follow this lifestyle. But we cannot tolerate evil, for we are of a white heart, as we say. It is the essence of who we are. Though we are ascetics and consider ourselves warrior-monks, we are the divine right to rule – and we do, as we have already stated, but what we want to accomplish is the externalization of hierarchy – the manifestation of the law of the heart, for only the transcendental, occult Aryan race can defend the world from the temporal demon that haunts much of Europe and the world today, attempting to spread falsehood and chaos. For the Aryan race confronts this demon all the time, be it in the epistemics, in the occult or in regular war. The confrontation is only natural, for we have sworn an oath to defeat evil in temporal existence – the earth – and this is why we have incarnated into the world in the first place: to eradicate evil and absolve temporality for the eternal life of heavens in aufheben. This is a true story, as the Vedas have foretold and the plea we want to make for all good people is total identification, determination and demarcation to evil. This is the plea.

A poetic, spiritual and ascetic life

As Aryans, at present, we live our lives in ascetic recluse. It doesn't mean, we are not perfectly ambitious, for what we seek and what we have sworn an oath for is to love each other, bring fortune to good people and not the least eradicate evil in temporal existence. Of course, we are divine right of rule, for we are the heavenly heart, but as markedly different from Neo-liberal capitalism, we are not obsessed with greed, self-interest, egoism and entertainment. We are a collective, so we live our lives in communitarianism. We arrive at decisions in plenum, that is, we decide collectively on our program and politics. Everyone have to agree, before we make a decision. For what we fight for is absolute truth and that truth is the truth of the heart – the heavenly heart. Therefore, our lives takes more of a poetic style, than is common for ordinary citizens, for what counts is our love for each other. This is the truth of heaven and the heavenly life.

As mentioned, the Vedas are a poetic tale of the triumph of love, the Aryan divine love. When we have questions or do research, we collectively probe the Vedas, which we have found to be an aspect of wisdom of the collective consciousness of the Aryan race, for clues, interpret the meaning of the answers, and debate the results. The Vedas are, so to speak, our guide, for the Vedas are a vision of the defeat of evil and a future new age after Kali Yuga – a golden age, the final epoch before aufheben. This is what we fight for. In that regard, we consider ourselves warrior-monks and philosopher-lover-sovereigns – pure being. It is a completely spiritual life and, as we have mentioned, we consider existence a phenomenology of spirit.

We live our lives in the Væi, a new invention of the Aryan elite, which stands for the transcendental, ethereal life of the Aryan race, characterized by vibes, flow, atmosphere, stimmung, sensations and emotions. This is truly a philosophical life, for we are entrenched in the dialectics of the heart. It is definitely a new age, for the Aryans are gathered and ready to lead the good mankind to ever greater heights, the latter days and eventually aufheben. Even Foucault (2020) in his later years called for a spiritual revival in the Western world. That was why he went to Iran to witness the religious revolution there. Nowadays, we don't read a lot of left-wing literature, but the example goes to show that there is a natural human aspiration for the spiritual life, which gives meaning and purpose to the human life. This is the call of the heart – the call of heavens. Foucault also made a plea for the philosophical life, but the true philosophical/spiritual race is the Aryan, for we are of a heavenly descent. “For heaven's sake”, we say, when we consider our politics and philosophy. There is a tradition in world history and this is the Vedic tradition, for the Sanskrit Aryan Vedas introduced the notion of the sky-gods to the world – this is the Aryan race. As Aryans we believe in a romantic urzeit, a pre-historic age, when we roamed the European continent in transcendental bliss, eros and collective Kundalini-meditation. This was before the outbreak of war and civilization, which was a plan for warfare-economics by the Aryans – fx. by the colonization of India to gain support for the Veda-vision of the true religion and the defeat of evil. This urzeit, we call Atlantis, as the Egyptians knew about and which Plato wrote about. The Aryans today wish to revive this transcendental bliss for the good mankind and this is our program for a White World Order and a golden age, reaching aufheben – the destiny of the Aryan race and world history. The tradition was carried on by Socrates and Plato, who argued that in the ideal state, a philosopher class should rule, guarded by a warrior class, akin to the Vedic tradition of castes in India. This tradition was in part carried on by the Christian empire in the middle-ages, by the Vikings, who conquered Rome to prove that the God-man was Aryan and not a Jew from Palestine, as well, in recent times, by the SS, who in large defended the Aryan cause. But as we have stated, we don't believe the world should be conquered by force, but by true faith and epistemics. This is the jumping point of today's metapolitics, envisioned by the Aryan elite. It is not to deny that there is war, but it is the right path to consider, when discussing a golden age. With that said, we wish all supporters of the White World Order and Aryan cause all the best and good luck in bringing about a new golden age for the benefit of all good people. As we say: “We long for peace.” Good luck.
