Abstract

In this essay, we seek to shed true light, transcendental illumination, unto a topic, which is shrouded in mystery, esotericism and propaganda, namely the inner teachings of the esoteric SS, which we call The White Robes. Much of recent history has been so skewed as to portray the Aryan race as evil-doers, perpetrators of war crimes against humanity, but perhaps the picture is more nuanced and complex, which we in this essay seek to investigate. First, we define what are the true inner teachings, the Hyperborean wisdom, that laid the ground for the future esoteric SS. We trace a line of thought going all the way back to the primordial Hyperborea, through Atlantis, onward through Vedic and Greek civilization, through the Gnostic sects and the Edda society, and up till the Thule-Gesellschaft and the esoteric SS. These traditions were guardians of the mysteries of creation, the Holy Grail and metaphysical, spiritual, occult warfare against the evil Demiurge and the principalities of darkness, for temporal existence is indeed a magical, occult war, as we in the essay seek to explain. We present the core teachings of The White Robes and the Aryan Order today, while we delineate the reality of the occult war on "The Other Side", a concept we have invented to describe the reality of an extra-dimensional reality of occult warfare, which we are the first ones to describe in such detail, based on first-hand experience and transcendental meditations carried out by the Aryan collective. We hope the essay will contribute to casting new light onto the true background of the esoteric SS and onto the occult war that is being fought today. Thank you and good luck on the journey.

Author's preface and ethical clarification

This essay is a metaphysical and spiritual investigation into the inner teachings and symbolic world of the so-called "Esoteric SS," referred to here as The White Robes. The work does not seek to glorify or rehabilitate the historical actions, military aggression, or political ideology of National Socialism. Rather, it aims to critically reexamine the suppressed spiritual dimension of a subset of that movement — a group whose intentions, symbols, and metaphysical concepts have been distorted, obscured, or misappropriated in the postwar period.

The Aryan Order, as represented here, does not advocate violence, racism, or supremacism in any form. Its interest lies in the restoration of sacred memory, the study of the Hyperborean lineage, and the defense of the soul against technological and occult suppression. The teachings described are part of a broader spiritual doctrine concerned with truth, love, metaphysical awakening, and resistance to spiritual inversion in the modern world.

This essay is intended for philosophical, theological, and esoteric study only, and should not be interpreted through a political lens, nor confused with any contemporary nationalist or extremist movements.

The logical conclusion of the occult war of the 21st ct. – Historical revisionism

Much has been said about historical revisionism of recent times. The purpose of this essay is not to advocate violence, hatred or aggression, but to outline aspects of ontology, mysticism and the existential, cosmic war that still to this day captivate the world, and which therefore are important to discuss from the perspective of the Aryan race, who despite of the two World War has not disappeared from the scene of geopolitics, no matter how much our enemies would like us to do so. The Aryans are here, but contrary to what is commonly believed, the Aryans are not that many – we estimate between 10.000 and 100.000 true Aryans. We are the Hyperborean Siddhas – the liberator Gods, and we are allied with all Viryas. Our natural allies are the Nordic-Germanic people, but also many Europeans and Native Indians around the world. It is very important to make this clarification in regards to our demographics, for those responsible for the hostilities of the Second World War were our allies, the Nordic-Germanic people, and not as such the Aryans themselves. As Aryans, we never support physical war aggression, unless we talk about self-defense, and this topic of self-defense is of course contentious in a world of war and conflict. Recently, the US were themselves advocating pre-emptive war and here the lines between war aggression and self-defense can become blurred. Also, for example Israel has recently waged a pre-emptive war against Iran, with the US taking the side of Israel in bombing Iranian nuclear-sites. What are the analytics of the threat-situation? At what point is it justified to take up arms in the face of current or future, overt or covert threats? It might not seem so easy to define, as the powers-that-be would want us to believe, when they talk about "spreading democracy" and R2P (doctrine of right to protect). Furthermore, if we take into account the power to define truth and consciousness, as Lukes (2004) spoke about, what kind of imperialism of ideas and self-evident truth today have the authority to define the political truth of peace, war and righteous self-defense? It is the thesis of this essay that to better understand the Second World War, recent wars and the conflicts of the post-modern condition, we have to also learn about the inner teachings of the SS and the roots of those teachings. We would like to postulate that those who gave rise to the SS were actually acting upon an ancient tradition of metaphysical Hyperborean wisdom, which eventually during the war became semi-corrupted into materialist, aggressive war policies. These inner believers of the esoteric, metaphysical SS we call "The White Robes", a term we have ourselves invented, partly to also describe our own activities today. The term covers what should probably be understood as the true esoteric elite of the Aryan race, an elite that today is organized in the Aryan Order. While we don't agree with the war-time policies of the historical National-Socialism of Germany, still much of the inner, core, metaphysical teachings of the esoteric SS are valid yet today. For example, Nimrod de Rosario and Miguel Serrano[1] actively tried to describe these inner, esoteric teachings of the SS, and in this essay, we would like to give our own authoritative interpretation. Rosario and Serrano's books are very interesting and all deal with Hyperborean/Aryan mythos, spiritual and metaphysical knowledge, a reality, which today is deeply suppressed by the Liberal-Marxist world order, but which nevertheless is a profound tradition, which we today seek to revive. The tradition, as we understand it, deals with the esoteric lineage from primordial Hyperborea, over Atlantis, through Vedic and Greek times, through Gnosticism, to the Edda society and beyond, up till the esoteric SS, which we in this text seek to describe. In common for this esoteric linage is that it deals with the wisdom of the Aryan race in contrast to the other dominant religious force of world history, namely the Semite tradition. We would like to make a case for a renewed interest in and study of this Aryan esoteric linage of theology, metaphysics and philosophy.

1 Rosario and Serrano's texts can all be found on Internet Archive (archive.org). It has to be said that we have not read all of the two authors work, but we will continue our research into the seminal works of these authors during the next period of time. Already now, in the Aryan Order, we wanted to bring our own contemplations on these profound topics, as the Aryans themselves have deep, original and authoritative insights to bring into the equation.

Key points of the inner teachings of the esoteric SS

In this section of the essay, we will list the main points of the esoteric SS, as they are known by the Aryan Order today. These are the fundamentals of the teachings of The White Robes. The interpretations of these key concepts are mainly based on original, transcendental meditations carried out by the Aryan elite today.

- Hyperborea/Thule as urheimat/origin and return/destiny: The myth of Hyperborea, as laying beyond the Northern Wind, is a veiled, occult reference to Thule, beyond time and space, the Northernmost point as the ultimate origin and destiny of the Aryans in their spiritual journey towards a new homeland – this is Ultima Thule, the promised land from where we came and to where we will return – basically the transcendental plane, which is the habitat of the Aryan soul. This is Nirvana. Some say that Thule derives from the Greek word telos.
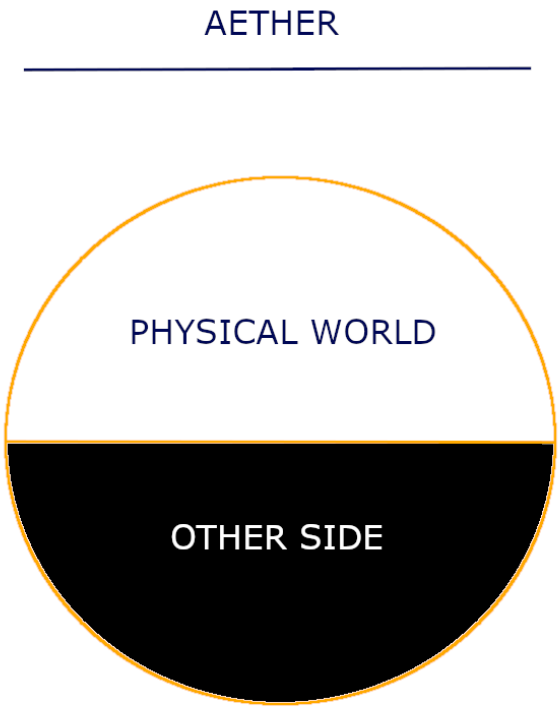
- Samsara*/reincarnation: The Aryan soul is an incarnation, properly understood, for we descend from the transcendental realm and enter maya to fight the cosmic war against alien, temporal evil. Upon victory, we will be liberated to return home. Incarnation is a conscious act of the Aryan Siddhas to fight the cosmic war, not per se an imprisonment by the Demiurge, as some esotericists claim.
- Agartha/Asgard: The myth of the subterranean Agartha is a veiled reference to the very existence of the Aryan race and the White Order, who by total recall, anamnesis (Plato, 385 BC; 399 BC) remember the truth in-itself of our origin and destiny, living an ascetic, elitist and underground life as the secret sovereigns with divine duties. The concepts relate especially to the Aryan Siddhas and the collective, mystical consciousness of the Aryan race – but hidden from profanity.
- Black Sun: In our own original meditations, the Black Sun refers specifically to the transcendental aether, which is seen and enlivened by the "Third Eye", the pineal-gland. This is the deepest and most suppressed mystery of all, since the Demiurge and the principalities of darkness cannot bear this reality. So they try to suppress the awakening of the third eye by multiple means. Descartes (1649) called the pineal-gland the "seat of the soul."
- Maya/Valplads: Temporal existence is maya (illusion) and so should be considered in all a "magical battle" against the principalities of darkness and a "phenomenology of spirit" (Hegel, 1807). Valplads is the term chosen by the Thule-Gesellschaft and Rosario (2023) to describe the temporal plane as a place where Odin and the Valkyries choose their soldiers of valor.
- Holy Grail: The promise of divine love and ascension. This is the more recent mythopoetic tale of the knights of Europe, the Templars etc., for the promise of salvation of the Aryan race.
- Spear of Destiny: In our philosophical system, the myth of the Spear of Destiny actually refers to the spear of Odin. It is the spear that pierces maya and brings truth, clarity and ultimate victory in the cosmic war against the Demiurge and her minions.
- Kundalini-meditation/samadhi: A crucial concept, which eventually will bring us home, for there is a collective dimension to the Kundalini-energy, as we have recently found.
- Tantric, mystical union: The ultimate truth of creation is the divine love and relationship of the Aryan man and woman.
- Vril: Vril is the energy we use to enliven and navigate the transcendental aether – a cosmic force of immortal will, but which today is under immense attack from psychotronic warfare.

The occult war on "The Other Side"

There are many more concepts we could explore from the esoteric, mythic tradition, but what we have just presented are the most crucial concepts of the esoteric SS, The White Robes. We could also explore the myth of Atlantis, but we have written at length about this otherwhere (Riis-Søndergaard, 2024a; 2025). For now, we wish to explore another aspect of the esoteric tradition, which has not really been written about so clearly before. Namely, the war on The Other Side, for one of our greatest interests at present is in occult physics, which we will write more about later, but we will start by yet again (Riis-Søndergaard, 2024b) introducing the notion of an occult war being played out in effect in a sub-dimension to the physical reality, which we call The Other Side. The Other Side, into which we have a had breakthroughs, is an absolutely crucial part of ontology, if we want to understand the occult war and the motivation for metaphysical self-defense and conquest of the The White Robes, the esoteric SS and the Aryan Order today. On The Other Side, notably auras of subjects, buildings and artifacts are clearly visible, ranging from colorful (Aryans), splendid white (good people) to flickering black (evil people). So The Other Side is "a result of the degree of faith" of people. Though, apparently, hidden from people, The Other Side is yet another proof (next to the aether) as to the divine, occult nature of reality and to the existentiality of the cosmic war. Apparently, The Other Side is "a fallen realm", due to the introduction of ontological, alien evil, which is the cause of the outbreak of cosmic war. As such, the physical reality itself is not fallen in an ontological sense, but more of the Valplads between good and evil, but The Other Side we speculate to actually be the primary habitat of fallen beings. It's still too early to say, if fallen beings have their primary perception of life and livelihood on The Other Side, but in our breakthroughs, we know that on The Other Side there are demonic scripts over the entrances to buildings and on merchant ships, so we speculate that some evil people might at least be operating consciously on The Other Side. Furthermore, during our breakthroughs we witnessed what we describe as mini Tesla-towers, and we were immediately told in the aether that "they had build Tesla-towers on The Other Side". Today, in the Aryan Order, we know for sure that we are under immense psychotronic warfare attacks, targeting our light-bodies and crown-chakras, so it make sense that this was the first we were told in the occult during our initial awakening in 2016. Also, in those days, we were told that the esoteric SS, The White Robes, knew about this Other Side, and that it was part of the occult war, being aware of the effects of faith on the Other Side. Basically, this occult knowledge, which is deeply hidden, is a clear sign of the occult nature of war between the forces of light and the forces of darkness. It seems that the demons are actively attacking our spiritual energies from The Other Side and in generally are like black holes in regards to divine energies – they are vampiric/parasitic, hence why the esoteric SS spoke about being "werewolves" fighting vampires. All in all, these new revelations reveal the "deeper layers" (Evola, 2002) of world geopolitics and occult warfare, and should be taken absolutely serious by the sincere seekers today. The idea that the esoteric SS knew about this occult warfare on The Other Side should perhaps make us revise our very negative perspective on the inner meaning of SS and the occult Second World War. Not that we agree with any sort of physical violence, but at least we should begin to question the rosy painting of the so called victors of that war, for if the world is truly a metaphysical, cosmic war, and the SS were "splendid white" on The Other Side, while our enemies were all "gloomy dark", how should we then evaluate upon the legitimacy of the war in general? There might be some clues missing or suppressed that we ought to seek out and revive, as the Aryan Order is doing today, based on personal, first-hand experience with the spiritual, mystical and occult reality of existence. How can we explain the visions we have had of Tesla-towers on the Other Side, when we know we are being actively under attack from those kind of psychotronic weapons today? A whole depth of reality needs to be actively explored and researched by the sincere seekers of spiritual enlightenment and liberation today – occult physics.

Diagram of the three existential dimensions



Note on The Other Side: These are the three existential dimensions, which we have experience-based and theoretical proof of. It is interesting to note that the idea of The Other Side finds correlation in other esoteric schools, for example in the Kabbalah, where the realm called Sitra Achra literally means "The Other Side". According to the Kabbalah, this realm is a fallen realm of inverted light, ruled by a demonic hierarchy. Also de Rosario spoke of a "parallel field of psycho-aetheric resonance", while Serrano talked about "psychic doubles" and the "deepest interiority of the Earth". But never before have we heard such clear witness-accounts of The Other Side as we have here described. While some fallen beings may operate directly on The Other Side, we find that good people can only see this dimension in occult breakthroughs or perhaps in mystical visions. Some have also speculated a discrepancy in time in regards to the physical world and The Other Side, ie. that The Other Side is lagging behind in time, and therefore could be considered almost "a predatory" dimension. Are good people being spiritually preyed upon from this other sub-dimension? Those are advanced speculations, which we should investigate further, but it already seems like psychotronic weapons have been built there, so in that context it is not an outrageous claim.

When fighting demons…

Nietzsche (1886) famously said: “He who fights with monsters should be careful lest he thereby become a monster. And if thou gaze long into an abyss, the abyss will also gaze into thee”. So what happened to the esoteric SS, when it became the exoteric SS and involved in physical warfare, rather than metaphysical, spiritual warfare, as it was founded upon? We find that this is the true and real question to ask, when considering the Second World War, which is a crucial understanding to have given the developments in the aftermath of the war. Were the true, inner SS really fighting a legit, spiritual war against the principalities of darkness, which has been spoken about in all true, esoteric teachings, and were they not up against a counter-initiatory force that sought to turn the metaphysical truth upside-down, as Rosario (2022) seems to imply? Were the actual SS not caught in a trap set up by the principalities of darkness, so that the physical war was forced upon them by nefarious, conspiratorial means? These are some of the deeper questions we would like our readers to contemplate, given what we have here presented on the true nature of the esoteric SS teachings of The White Robes and the Aryan Order of today. Have we today not seen what the so called victors of the Second World War have done to the world, saturated in atheism and materialism, and what they are actively doing to the leadership of the Aryan race in terms of psychotronic warfare and other covert and overt violence? Has The Other Side not become a dark and gloomy place, as we ourselves have recently experienced, rather than splendid white and colorful? When atheism and materialism are so prevalent in the Western world today, is this not a sign that we are missing the real fight? Is this not a sign that we have missed the real understanding of a divine creation and have given in to Liberal/capitalist entertainment and pursuance of egoistic self-interest, in neglect of the true and ultimate cause of life, namely remaining faithful? Why otherwise would The Other Side be so full of dark people, with only a few colorful and white auras? We beg to ask this crucial question, for the Aryan Order is totally truthful and faithful to the great cause – the telos of world history to combat and defeat alien evil. We know we are not alone in this fight, but good people need to wake up and realize that the truth of the soul, the truth of the heart, is what counts in a world of war, not “blissful ignorance” and egoism. Will good people ever break through to The Other Side, as Jim Morrison sang in Break On Through (To the Other Side) (1967), if they don’t have the truthfulness of heart, which this breakthrough implies? What has happened to good people in the aftermath of the war, that The Other Side looked so bleak? Where have all the god folks gone, that the transcendental Aryan Order seems to be almost fighting alone in this epic struggle for truth, faith and righteousness? Have people really become so ignorant, degraded and complacent with the status-quo that they never even realize the potential for a higher cause than mere survival and perhaps some material (pseudo-)pleasure, which anyways always leads to eventual suffering and longing – despair? Material pleasure is nothing, when considering spiritual enlightenment and liberation, what all ancient traditions spoke about. How come we have forgotten this crucial aspect of our lives and are now only living the material, vanishing life of fear, vanity and superficiality? This is the great conspiracy against the good mankind that we now in the Aryan Order seek to explain on behalf of all sincere souls, so that the good mankind may once again taste the nectar of divine love, eternal faith and immortality that heavens is. We need good people to wake up, for what if we consider the Aryan Order, which is fully awake, and then consider the immense epistemic, but also especially psychotronic attacks being levied against us? Is this not proof that what we teach is correct and true, for otherwise why would our enemies attack us so vehemently and desperately? It is deeper mysteries of the Aryan cause, which we seek to bring forth, so that the good mankind may understand the gravity and seriousness of the situation, but also the majesty, immensity and hope of the great cause. We will never waiver our spiritual pursuits, but we need the support of all good people for us to succeed. The task we have is not a lesser task, but a major task.

Kali Yuga – The latter days

According to Vedic lore, we are now living in the "end times", the Kali Yuga of despair, spiritual degradation, materialism, conflict and war. The Vedas present a cyclical view of history, and actually, according to the Vedas, ever since the beginning of known civilization it has been the Kali Yuga, worsening over time until today, where atheism and materialism seem to dominate world politics and society. But contrary to the prevalent understanding of the Vedas, the Aryan Order of today are firm in the belief that we will eventually, actually in our lifetime, reach what we call aufheben (Hegel, 1807) – the final upheaval, liberation and return to origin, the final eschatological absolution of temporality. So we actually believe in a linear telos, rather than an indefinite cyclical reality of existence. We have great proof of this thesis. Of course, world history develops from Satya Yuga (golden age) through increasing strife, conflict and war, but will eventually reach the end of the cycle, incipit a new golden age, which we are totally convinced is now happening with the transcendental gathering of the Aryan Order – these are the latter days. Even though the current Kali Yuga (and in this, the Vedas were true) is a time of spiritual degradation, atheism and materialism, we are totally convinced that what now unfolds in real-time, as we write these essays, is the introduction of a new ethereal Atlantis, a new golden age, which, with the gathering of the Aryan race in an Aryan National-State, will eventually bring about the aufheben, the religious upheaval of all good people for the eternal life via collective Kundalini-meditation – the final absolution of temporality. The temporal world will not be recreated, as is the common interpretation of the Vedas – the breath of Brahma, as a cycle of creation/destruction. It is the final word, to be precise, for the world, but not for the good humanity, who will ever subside in the fields of the ever. If we look upon the historical development of Aryan theology, we can see why this is the absolute truth, for in the gnostic philosophy, but also in the most ancient Hyperborean/Atlantean philosophy, this fact of final absolution of temporality, victory over the Demiurge in the cosmic war, has always been stated. So how come both the Vedas, but also the Edda spoke about the continuing regeneration of the temporal world, even after the Ragnarok? Is this discrepancy between the most ancient Hyperborean/Atlantean/Gnostic theology and the Vedas and Edda due to an existential uncertainty, or due to conscious misinterpretation of the transcribers of those two last mentioned traditions? Is it due to the false insertion of counter-initiatory Demiurgical teachings aiming at corrupting the ancient, eschatological wisdom? This is a great question to contemplate today, for the Aryan Order has carried out original, transcendental meditations and has absolutely come to believe that the ethereal Vedas and Edda definitely teach us about the latter days and the final victory over the alien, evil Demiurge – the absolution of temporality. Therefore, we firmly uphold the doctrine of eschatology, as later esoteric Christianity/Gnosticism did. This seems also to be the belief of Rosario (1985). The clues to this doctrine is to be found in the fact that temporal existence truly is a metaphysical, cosmic, spiritual war, and not merely "an illusion of God/Brahma", as the modern interpretation of the Vedas seems to imply – not merely an eternal sleep or forgetfulness on behalf of the gods – not any failure or err on behalf of the pantheon. For sure, it is "a magical battle" between the Devas (gods) and the Asuras (demons), and do we not want to return home, as one could rhetorically ask? Of course we do, for that is our destiny – absolute freedom, as Hegel (1807) implied. So given that the temporal world is maya/Valplads, temporal existence inevitably will be absolved in favor of the eternal life – this is the true promise of the Vedas and the Edda, a reality we must investigate further in our understanding of those two Aryan traditions. Of course, the Demiurge would want us to believe that there is no escape from The Matrix (1999), from the bonds and thralldom of the temporal, material world, but there is an escape and this is the White Order, the gathering of the Aryan race in a new Aryan National-State, the collective Kundalini-meditation of our people and the spiritual victory in the cosmic war over the Demiurge by the truth and law of the heart – this is the true promise of the Vedas.
